

Barry-Eaton District
Health Department

2014 Annual Report

The Barry-Eaton District Health Department (BEDHD) envisions a future where every resident has the opportunity to live a long, healthy, and active life. How does that future happen? It happens through thoughtful choices at every level – choices by individuals, families, businesses, schools, organizations, and communities to prioritize and take action on health.

Investing in the well-being of communities and making health a priority in comprehensive planning can reduce the number of people overall that get sick, how sick they feel, and if they die early... or live a long time. The purpose of public health is to promote the health of the population, making sure that people have safe, clean, and healthy places to live, work, and play, and to make sure that diseases and injuries are prevented whenever possible.

The BEDHD has made addressing chronic disease an overarching theme of many of its programs and initiatives. We work on four components – healthy eating, active living, tobacco control, and the built (man-made) environment to combat the onset and impact of chronic disease. Through our Community Outreach efforts BEDHD professionals regularly attend municipal meetings and community coalitions to foster connections and encourage actions that protect and enhance the public's health. This networking has proven to be a catalyst for additional partnerships and policy developments across the district. Meaningful community partnerships are the cornerstone of successful and sustainable communities.
